Writing part 2 An article

1

A good friend is a kind of person who always listens to you. You don't (use a ' for contractions do not = don't) need to have a lot of similar interests.

One of my best friends is Hassan. I don't often (spelling) see him because he's gone to study in England, (capital letter for countries) but we have fun (spelling) when we see each other in the holidays. (We do not use a ' for plural nouns)

He's studying Physics (spelling) but I'm doing Fine Arts.

Although we have different abilities (spelling) we complement each other.

He's (Use a ' for contractions he is = he's) a very calm person. I think that's the perfect character for a friend because he's easy to be with.

Example answer

I am lucky because I have a lot of friends. A good friend is kind and helpful when you have problems. A good friend can be smarter than you or not as clever as you, but he or she always has time to listen. I just need someone to talk to.

I think you can relax with a good friend. You can just be together and have fun. It doesn't matter where or when. My friends don't all have the same hobbies. I like that people are different from me, who can give me new ideas or show me a new activity.
